Planned Giving

What is a Planned Gift?

For over 50 Years, L'Arche has remained dedicated to providing a better quality of life for people with intellectual disabilities. L'Arche is Canada's leader in providing a full spectrum of quality services to people with special needs, from residential services and day programming to outreach programs and our ongoing commitment to educating and training professionals in the field.

How can we ensure this unique organization is here for future generations?

Today, government funding only goes so far. Certain vital programs such as L'Arche Outreach Programs depend entirely on community donations for their survival!

People like you play a crucial role in securing the future and providing HOPE!

A creative solution is through a gift from your assets - a Planned Gift - realized after your lifetime. A Planned Gift to L'Arche will help ensure that L'Arche can continue to provide vital services for generations to come.

Let This Be Your Legacy.

The significant advantage of a planned gift or future gift is that it often gives you, the donor, the opportunity to make larger, more lasting gifts than might otherwise be possible if made from your available cash. With a future gift, you commit to give the gift now, but the L'Arche Canada Foundation does not receive it until later in the future. For example if you are a pensioner living off a fixed income you may not be able to afford a gift today; however, you may be able to make a substantial donation through a gift from your estate.

A planned gift is a tax-effective donation that balances your financial needs, family commitments and charitable goals. From a personal perspective, a planned gift is a tangible expression of the values you have embraced throughout your life. A well considered gift stands as a symbol of who you are and what you believe in. The charitable tax receipt issued to your estate may help offset taxes applied to the estate.

Types of Planned Gifts

L'Arche Canada Foundation offers a number of ways for our supporters to give. The most common types of planned gifts are briefly described below.

Bequests

Bequests are donations you make through your will and that are distributed by your estate after you have passed away. They are the most common planned gift. A bequest may be a specific amount or a percentage of your estate. Contact us if you would like suggestions for wording in your will.

Life Insurance

Life insurance policies let you donate a substantial amount in the future by making premium payments now. If you have made L'Arche the owner of the policy, the premium payments that you make annually towards an insurance policy on your life are receiptable for tax purposes. You can also gift an existing paid up insurance policy.

There are many different ways to leave a legacy. Each has its own benefits. To discuss your options in confidence. Call the Foundation Office at 905-770-7696 Ext. 105.

How Do We Acknowledge Your Generosity?

The Jean Vanier Society

Please let us know if you have made a provision for a planned gift to L'Arche. With your permission we would include your name as a member of the Jean Vanier Society. The names of Jean Vanier Society members are published in our newsletter, our annual report, and on our website as a small way to say "thank you" for securing the future of L'Arche.

By letting others know of your generosity, they may be encouraged to take similar action. The more members we have, the brighter the future for people with intellectual disabilities.
